Art Unit: 1615

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 14-18 and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Danielson et al US 6,270,807.

The claims remain rejected for the reasons set forth in Paper No. 6, mailed January 16, 2002.

Applicant's arguments filed April 24, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants state, "claim 14 requires the presence of a water-swellaable excipient that is at least partially hydrated". "Although the Danielson patent discloses the use of water-swellaable excipients, it does not disclose the use of water swellaable excipients that are at least partially hydrated".

The reference clearly shows maltodextrin. See column 5, line 22. This is the same excipient applicants' disclose in the form of a hydrate. Page 4, lines 6-11 of applicants' specification. In example 5, Danielson et al shows ingredients comprised of a hydrate and a water-swellaable excipient, all of which are admixed with coated granules of the active agent. See column 5, lines 22-25. The hydrate is maltodextrin and the water-swellaable excipient is microcrystalline cellulose.

Art Unit: 1615

Additional water-swellaable excipients, sodium starch glycolate and corn starch are also present. This clearly shows applicants' claimed invention.

Following are new grounds of rejection.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 14-18 and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Puglia et al US 4,327,076.

See column 4, lines 25-48, column 5, lines 5-31, column 7, lines 3-40, example 1, column 8, lines 55-68.

Claims 1-13, 19 and 20 are allowed.

Claims 14-18 and 21-23 are rejected.
